Amchitka Island

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge turned aside for the second time Monday attempts by environmentalists to halt a giant underground nuclear explosion set to go off within days on a remote Alaskan island.

U.S. District Court Judge George L. Hart Jr. ruled that seven organizations headed by the Committee for Nuclear Responsibility failed to prove that the government did not adequately consider potential environmental dangers of the blast on Amchitka Island.

The conservationists said they would appeal immediately to the U.S. Court of Appeals in Washington.

The appeals court already has turned down one request for a temporary injunction against the blast—reportedly set to go off Thursday with the equivalent force of five million tons of TNT.

But that ruling occurred before Hart was ordered by the appeals court to study secret documents the environmentalists say will prove the explosion can trigger earthquakes or tidal waves, release radioactive waste into the air, or injure wildlife.

The appeals court also told Hart to turn over to the environmentalists all of the documents from four government agencies which showed any potential environmental damage. Hart said he did so reluctantly and added: "When I got through reading all this material on atomic explosions, I couldn't help feeling it was a tempest in a teapot."

Hart ordered some of the documents turned over to the conservationists and others kept secret because he said they fell within the legal doctrine known as executive privilege.

Hart, who earlier had dismissed the environmentalist case without a formal hearing, said he turned down their second attempt to obtain a preliminary injunction because the explosion is needed for national security reasons. He also said the conservationists failed to show that the environment would be damaged.

Interest Rates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Home mortgages and consumer credit will be the immediate targets of administration efforts to hold down interest rates but fixed ceiling will be avoided, Federal Reserve Chairman Arthur F. Burns said Monday.

But Burns, chairman of the new presidentially appointed committee on interest and dividends, said the outlook for interest rates in the next year or so is uncertain.

And some members of the House Banking Committee who heard him continued to press for stronger interest controls in Phase 2 of President Nixon's economic program.

"Unless this committee and the Congress take definite action—makes its position crystal clear—I don't think we are going to get much more than talk and studies about consumer interest rates," Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., said.

Burns also called for speed in achieving new international economic arrangements, and dropping the import surtax Nixon imposed as part of his emergency program. Administration policy has not yet clearly emerged in this field and Burns declined to discuss specifics. But he said "There are those who feel that time is on our side, that we can be relaxed about restoring the international economy and eliminating the surcharge."

"I have grave doubts about such views," he said. "Time is on nobody's side."

Alaskan Land Claims

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed Monday a bill to pay $1 billion to Alaska natives in settlement of their ownership claims to most of the vast land mass, which the United States bought for $7.2 million a century ago.

Sponsors of the bill, which sailed through the Senate 76 to 5, said the $1 billion plus an accompanying land grant would be a just settlement of aboriginal claims which have been recognized since the territory was purchased from Russia in 1867.

The bill calls for $500 million in federal funds, $500 million in mineral production royalties from Alaska public lands and alternate land grant proposals.

The natives—55,000 Eskimos, Aleuts and Indians—would be given the option of voting on whether to accept either 40 million acres near their villages, plus mineral rights, or title to 30 million acres and the right to use an additional 20 million acres.

Little opposition was voiced in debate on the Senate bill, which will be sent to a conference with the House. The conferees will seek to resolve differences between the Senate and House versions.

The House bill would provide $425 million from the federal treasury, $500 million in mineral royalties which otherwise would go to the state and 40 million acres of land.

Foreign Aid Stopgap Likely

'Something Will Be Done'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said Monday that the scuttling of the U.S. foreign aid program could adversely affect withdrawal of American forces from Vietnam.

But, Laird told a White House news conference he plans to tell South Vietnamese officials this week that he does not expect the Senate's rejection of the overseas assistance program will stand.

"I am going to assure the Vietnamese that ... corrective action will be taken," Laird said.

Members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee agreed after a meeting Monday that the foreign aid program should be revived, but controversy loomed over the duration of any stopgap measure to keep it alive and the shape of any long term foreign aid formula.

Laird, after an hour-long meeting with President Nixon, said the Senate's Friday night vote against the program "could come at no worse time" because the administration is attempting to "move from confrontation to negotiation." He mentioned specifically the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT) and what he termed "exploratory or Phase 1" talks on Mutual Balance Force Reduction.

The White House said adoption of a resolution to continue foreign aid spending authority past Nov. 15 is imperative.

And a Pentagon spokesman said military assistance "is absolutely essential" in U.S. strategic planning.

The Foreign Relations Committee spent some 90 minutes behind closed doors discussing the future and the impact of last Friday night's Senate vote that killed the $2.9-billion foreign aid authorization bill.

No votes were taken at the committee session and no formal decisions made.

"I think the one thing I can say is that there wasn't any disposition to do nothing," said Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the chairman. "Something will be done, but what it will be, I have no idea."

Rep. George Mahon, D-Tex., chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, said he hopes Congress will agree on "a quickie, stopgap" resolution to continue foreign aid while a permanent program is fashioned.

"This is not a settlement of the controversy over foreign aid," he said. "It is just a stopgap."

He suggested a 30-day extension of aid spending authority, to meet current expenses and pay salaries while the issue is settled. The House had passed (Turn To Page Six)

NEW DELHI—All-India Radio reported Monday that an estimated 10,000 persons have been killed by a cyclonic storm and tidal wave which swept the Bengal coast in India's Orissa State. As many as four million persons are believed homeless.

Cyclone, Tidal Wave Hit India

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — A cyclone and 16-foot tidal wave have slammed into India's east coast, and political leaders reported the loss of 15,000 to 20,000 lives in this latest major natural disaster on the rim of the Bay of Bengal.

The wave and 100-mile-an-hour winds hit Friday night, but the devastation was so complete that word of its catastrophic proportions did not reach the outside world until Monday.

The Indian government radio reported a million homes destroyed or damaged, leaving four million persons without shelter. The broadcast put the death toll at 10,000.

The political leaders gave their estimates of the higher toll after a tour of the stricken area—in India's Orissa State.

The wave submerged scores of villages and islands in much the same way that a 30-foot tidal wave swept through the Ganges River Basin of East Pakistan a year ago and left 300,000 persons dead.

This new tidal wave hit the mainland near Cuttack, 225 miles southwest of Calcutta and about 300 miles southwest of the Ganges Basin.

Cyclones and tidal waves are annual occurrences in the Bay of Bengal at this time of year, sometimes lashing India and other times East Pakistan.

Seventy-two hours after the storm had struck, most of the affected villages were still cut off from the rest of the country. All rail lines roads and air strips were submerged or destroyed.

Most of the damage occurred in the two northeastern Orissa coastal districts of Cuttack and Balesore.

Orissa, which has a population of 20 million, is one of the most backward states in India.

Cuttack district is filled with almost primitive tribes known as the Adivasis—or ancient dwellers—who are descendants of people who lived in the area before the Aryan invasions 1,000 years before Christ.

The annual monsoon floods caused extensive damage throughout the eastern region in September.

Additionally, the economy of the entire eastern region has been disrupted in the past seven months by what has been described locally as the human tidal wave of more than nine million refugees who have fled into India from crisis-torn East Pakistan.

Some refugees who have been moved to Orissa from West Bengal were among the victims of this weekend's storm, according to the Indian radio.

Raise Red China's Banner At U.N. HQ

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Red China's flag was raised at U.N. headquarters Monday, but China's seat in the meeting halls remained vacant a week after the General Assembly's decision to seat the Peking government.

U.N. officials said they had heard nothing on the composition of the Chinese Communist delegation or its arrival time, beyond the terse message that a delegation to the assembly would be sent "in the near future."

Speculation persisted, however, that the delegation would arrive Thursday or Friday and that it would be headed by Deputy Foreign Minister Chiao Kuan-hua.

The only thing definite so far is that the Peking government wants to be listed alphabetically with the English letter "C" as "China, People's Republic of." This word came in a cable to Secretary-General U. Thant from Red China's Acting Foreign Minister Cui Peng-fei.

The message, received Sunday, cleared the way for the flag-raising, which took place Monday morning in a light drizzle. The red flag, with five gold stars, was hauled up, in alphabetical order with those of 130 other members, by two U.N. guards, Willard Bodie and George Baldwin, who are Americans.

No U.N. officials or U.N. diplomats were present.

Chi's message cleared up another problem, which had threatened to create difficulties in the U.N. Security Council in the event of a sudden crisis.

In a cable dated Oct. 30, Thant pointed out that if the Peking government decided to list its name as "People's Republic of China," it would be entitled to assume the presidency of the 15 nation council for the month of November.

Red China's choice of the listing as "China, People's Republic of" removed this possibility. As a result, Polish Ambassador Eugeniusz Kulaga, assumed the presidency Monday. Peking's turn will not come for almost a year, under the alphabetical rotation.

Peking has said nothing so far about a delegation for the Security Council. Its Oct. 29 message mentioned only a delegation to the 26th session of the General Assembly.

More Yanks Removed From Viet Fighting

SAIGON (AP) — American troop strength in South Vietnam dropped below 200,000 Monday for the first time in nearly six years.

The U.S. Command said the number of American troops in the war zone decreased by 5,300 men during the last week to 196,700—the lowest since January 1966. There were 196,400 U.S. servicemen in Vietnam then.

Peak U.S. strength 2½ years ago was 543,000.

The headquarters of Gen. Creighton W. Abrams also announced that 13 more U.S. Army units, totaling 1,335 men, were pulled out of combat Monday. The new cutback came only a day after the command reported the standdown of almost 3,000 American troops and deactivation of the U.S. Americal Division.

The accelerated troop cutback came as informants disclosed that Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird is bringing to Saigon Wednesday a broad outline of President Nixon's plans for what may be the definitive disengagement of U.S. combat forces.

The informants said the Nixon administration is probably thinking in terms of a residual force of 40,000 to 50,000 men—perhaps even fewer—by July 1.

Laird will spend three days here meeting with U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, Abrams, President Nguyen Van Thieu and other South Vietnamese officials.

Thieu said in his inaugural address Sunday that the allied combat role will end soon, but gave no specifics.

South Vietnam observed its National Day Monday with prayers for peace and tributes to the nation's 135,000 war dead, led by Thieu.

Traditional National Day festivities were canceled, and this year's holiday, marking the eighth anniversary of the coup which overthrew President Ngo Dinh Diem, was designated as a day of "prayers for peace."

Retired Gen. Duong Van "Big" Minh, one of the leaders of the 1963 coup, expressed fear that a "big power" arrangement to end the war might be "contrary to the interests of the Vietnamese people."

Battlefields in South Vietnam remained quiet, and it was disclosed that U.S. air strikes have dropped to the lowest level of the year.

Bombs Cause Tighter Security Measures For Queen Elizabeth

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard detectives took emergency security steps Monday to protect Queen Elizabeth II after two bombs exploded in London and terrorists struck with explosives and bullets in North Ireland.

Police looking for bombs prowled stone vaults and subterranean passages beneath Britain's Houses of Parliament, where the Queen attends a glittering state opening ceremony Tuesday.

A telephone caller warned that the tower above the royal entrance would be blown up.

Detectives checked suspects of two sabotage groups: The Irish Republican Army, which is fighting to drive British troops out of Northern Ireland, and the so-called Angry Brigade, a secret London movement dedicated to overthrowing British society.

The London blasts were a Sunday explosion that shattered three floors of the Post Office Tower—the highest building in Britain—and another Monday morning at an army barracks near Parliament.

In Northern Ireland, terrorists planted a duffel-bag bomb and blew apart the ground floor of an office building in downtown Belfast during the morning rush hour.

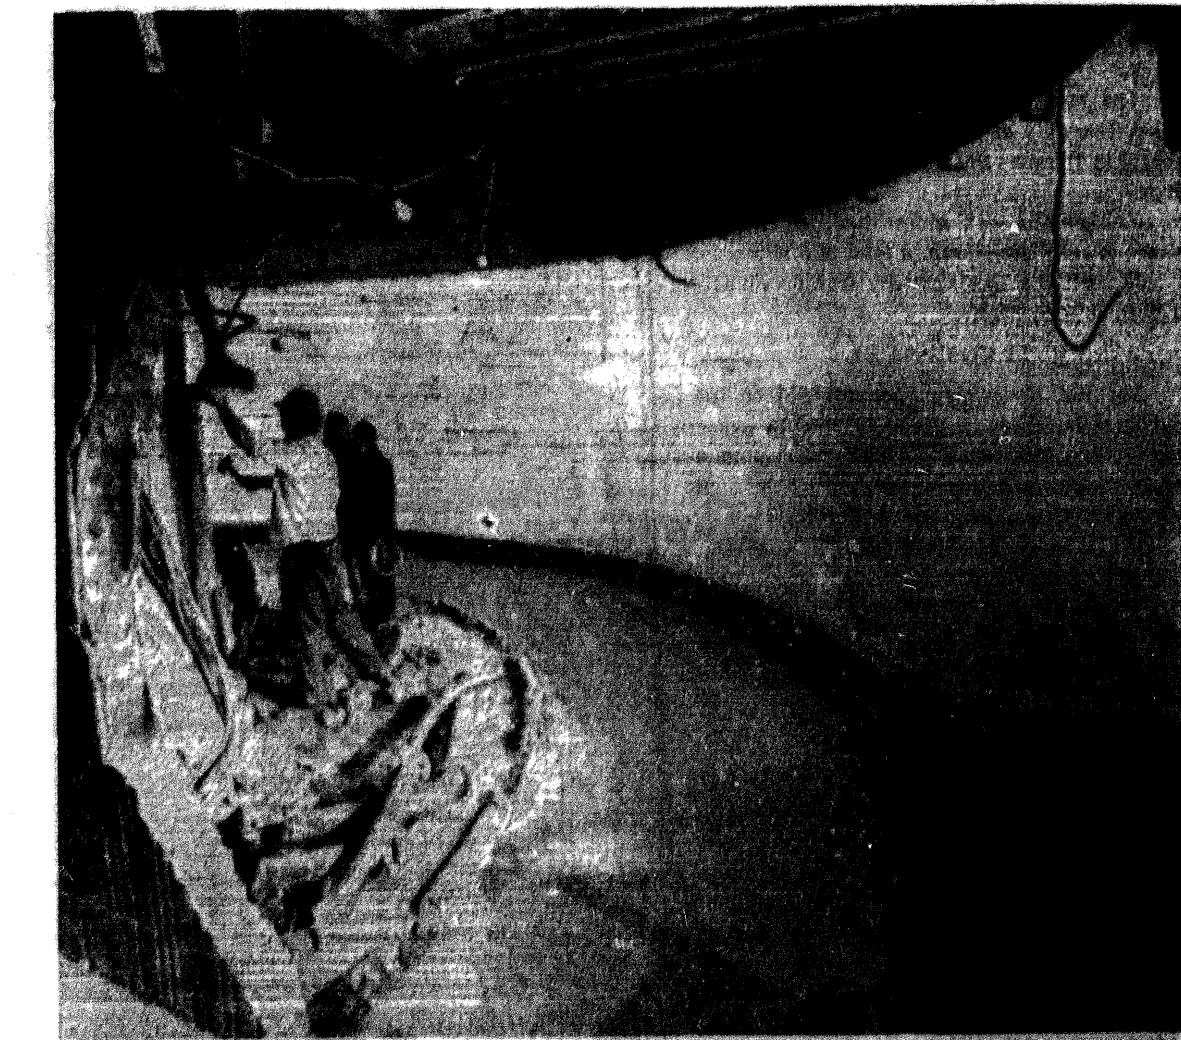

Hours later, terrorists ambushed two Ulster detectives in a suburban Belfast shopping center, killing them with a burst of submachinegun fire.

The killings brought Northern Ireland's violent death toll to 146 in the past two years of Catholic-Protestant strife.

There was no evidence to prove the IRA guerrillas—fighting to unite the Irish island under the Irish republican flag—were behind the London bombings. But with a bomb threat against the Queen's opening of Parliament, police were taking no chances. Security measures were rehearsed in the House of Lords and the House of Commons. IRA spokesmen in Dublin, usually quick to claim credit for anti-British sabotage, denied the IRA had planted any bombs in London. But an anonymous telephone caller with an Irish accent, claiming to belong to a London branch of the IRA, said the secret army had blasted the Post Office Tower and that Parliament would be next.

Another anonymous phone caller claimed both London bombs were ignited by the Angry Brigade, an underground anarchist group that has planted half a dozen bombs here in the past.

LONDON: Workmen clean up damage on the 31st floor of the Post Office Tower — Britain's tallest building — here Monday. A bomb explosion ripped a gaping hole in the tower Sunday, and an anonymous telephone caller said the outlawed Irish Republican Army (IRA) was responsible. A bomb was planted in the doorway of the Royal Tank Regiment's headquarters Monday. Police said there were no injuries in either explosion.

The Distortions In Picture Of 'Youth'

Is there really a revolution in life styles going on among young people?

"Yes," according to psychologist Dr. Nathan Deutsch. Young people, he says, are rejecting any "work ethic" that involves effort and concentration in favor of a different kind of life style.

"It's a life style," he told a recent meeting of the American Psychological Association, "that reflects the use of drugs, an inability to relate well to other people, an unwillingness to compete, a constant need to escape the real world."

Not all who accept this life style are drug users, he adds, but the culture is defined by film makers, writers and entertainers who flaunt the use of drugs.

"No," says economist and psychologist Dr. George Katona, who has directed national consumer attitude surveys for the University of Michigan's Survey Research Center for more than 20 years.

"Some social critics have spoken recently of revolutionary changes in people's life styles. Young people are said to be different from their elders, and an increasing number of consumers are believed to say 'No' to the consumer economy of ours. Concern with pollution and dissatisfaction with the quality of goods and services are also thought to reduce consumer demand."

Yet, despite the "simple" life styles professed by many of today's young people, he has found that their consumption patterns and aspirations after joining the labor force and forming families do not differ much from the same age groups ten years ago.

There have been certain changes in life styles, such as the trend toward more casual dress and the increased importance attached to leisure-time pursuits.

"Yet most of our cherished leisure-time pursuits are expensive," he points out. "The two fastest growing American industries have been the recreation industry and the education industry."

When queried about unfulfilled wishes and desires, people today mention a large variety of things they would like to have as they did 10 or 20 years ago, says Katona. "There are no indications of saturation."

Like the blind men who examined different parts of an elephant and reported entirely different descriptions of the beast, Deutsch and Katona are probably both accurate in their description of "youth."

The question is, which one has his hands on the main body and which one is merely talking about the tail?

The Probability Of Life

Astronomical research is steadily building a foundation to support the dream that somewhere in the universe there are sentient beings in addition to the human race. Basically the idea encouraged by recent findings is that some form of life exists on other planets. From this, though, it is not a long or illogical step to the view that over eons of time intelligent and reasoning creatures other than man must have evolved in some of those evolutionary melting pots.

Dr. George H. Herbig, acting director of the University of California's Lick Observatory, recently addressed himself to the matter. The old belief that life probably did not exist elsewhere was based, he said, "on the plausible but quite mistaken grounds that, first, planetary systems were very rare, and second, that our own existence here may be only an improbable fluke of nature."

As to the first point, it now appears likely that "other planetary systems, potential sites for life of some kind, must be very numerous indeed." As to the second, "there have been some recent astronomical developments which show that the basic materials of organic evolution are very widespread among the stars." It now appears, Herbig points out, that space is "pervaded almost everywhere with the molecular constituents of life."

Other astronomers have called attention to this growing belief that earth life is not alone in the universe. Dr. Herbig sums it up cogently: "It all seems to go together like a fascinating jig-saw puzzle; our existence here at the apex of biologic evolution on our own little planet does not represent some fantastic one-time-only quirk of nature, but is a perfectly reasonable piece of a much larger picture that is emerging from astronomical research."

Nixon Goals May Be Served By U.N. Action

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's hardening attitude toward the United Nations appears part of an orchestrated effort to turn a defeat into long-term political and diplomatic gains, not an attempt to punish the world body for expelling Nationalist China.

Administration and diplomatic sources say that while Nixon is disappointed and frustrated over the failure to keep a U.N. seat for Nationalist China he also sees an opportunity for progress toward three goals: Recovering and re-establishing political strength among the nation's more conservative voters, pushing the U.N. into economic reforms, and breaking the mold of international thinking about American foreign policy.

On the first point, the sources say Nationalist China's expulsion has touched off a reaction throughout the nation reflecting a deepfelt concern about the fate of the Taiwan government and suspicion of the United Nations.

Aware that some conservatives, already displeased with his overtures toward Communist China, are considering challenging his leadership, Nixon has moved to pre-empt their issue.

It was with this in mind, sources say, that the President set his strategy in motion, even as the debate was developing in the United Nations over the China membership question.

When some members of Congress said early this month that the United States should cut back its aid to the U.N. if Taiwan were tossed out, the administration called attention to the statement in the United Nations.

At first officials said they raised the matter publicly only to inform other nations there was such thinking by Americans. They declined to discuss whether the President would support a reduction.

This was followed by statements that the administration did indeed want U.S. financial aid to the U.N. to continue, but officials would not be specific when asked for details.

Then, after the vote to expell Taiwan last Monday, Secretary of State William P. Rogers said the United Nations was not acting in a financially responsible manner and American economic support might be re-evaluated. He added that this was not an act of retaliation.

By taking this zigzag approach, say State and diplomatic sources, Nixon hopes he created a conservative-pleasing image that he won't abide nations or organizations accepting American aid while kicking the United States in the teeth.

None of Nixon's goals is independent of the others, and that is particularly true of the question of U.S. financial aid for the United Nations.

Besides trying to strengthen his political position, Nixon is said by American officials to be truly concerned over the U.N. financial situation.

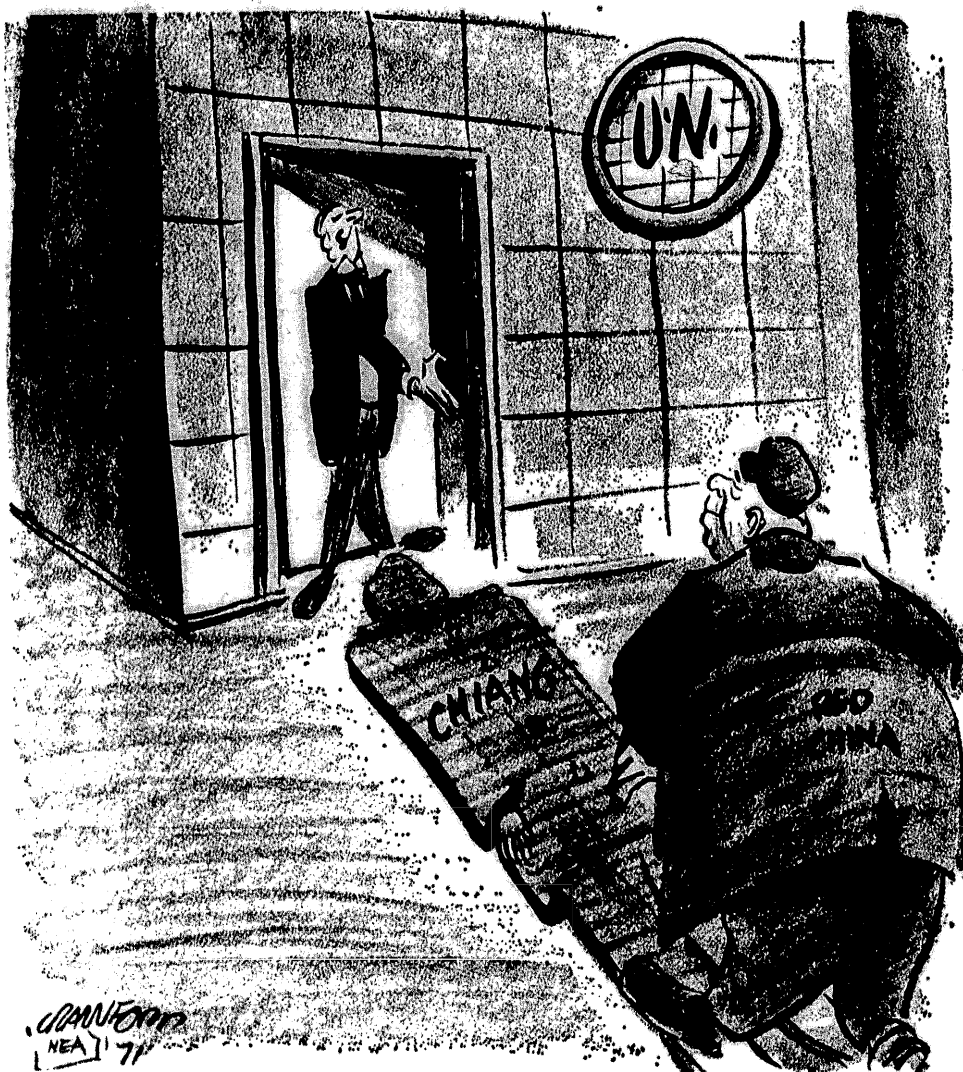

By Secretary General U Thant's account the U.N. is near bankruptcy. In addition Thant is retiring and much of the top U.N. executive structure has been weakened by illness and vacancies.

"This concern about the U.N. isn't new," one official said. "Something has to be done, including financial reforms. The United States wants to strengthen the U.N., but the old image that strengthening means pumping in more money just doesn't hold up. We think the strengthening can come in other ways."

Also tied in is Nixon's strategy toward Communist China. While trying to disarm conservative opposition at home and shock the United Nations into reforms, the President also is wary of doing anything that would disrupt the relaxing U.S.-Peking mood.

Nixon, therefore, has been careful not to attack the U.N. decision to give the Nationalist China seat to the Communist Chinese government. Instead, the shock and outrage the White House attributed to the President nearly two days after the Nationalists were expelled were aimed at the "shocking demonstration" of "undisguised glee (and) personal animosity" toward the United States by some delegates who celebrated the American defeat.

Criminals: 80%+ Go Scot-Free

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
WASHINGTON (NEA) — We hear much—and properly so—about the injustices done to some people by our system in the course of criminal law enforcement, trial and imprisonment. But there is an important reverse side to this story.

Thousands upon thousands of perpetrators of serious crimes are roaming the streets and bypaths of this country either uncaught or free of real penalty.

With crime at staggering heights, the government's figures show that in 1970 arrests were made for only 20 percent of the nation's serious offenses. Four out of five perpetrators were not even apprehended, let alone tried and convicted.

Obviously, not all of those persons arrested for such crimes (murder, rape, aggravated assault, robbery, burglary, larceny, automobile theft) are convicted—or even formally indicted.

Of those who were so indicted in 1970, however, just 11.4 percent drew convictions of any sort (in some cases, the charge is reduced, or the accused is referred to juvenile court).

As for the 11.3 percent, no more than half saw the inside of a jail after conviction. The other 50 percent were given probation.

The figures bear remembering. The understandable lament over the "caging" of convicted criminals in crowded, outmoded prisons needs unemotional perspective.

That more balanced view comes from the realization, reinforced by data, that half of the convicted are never "caged" after trial, and that the convicted represent a very small proportion of the arrested who, in turn, are a modest fraction of those who commit serious crimes in America.

The 1970 arrest record in the country is, of course, a great deal better in cases of murder, rape and assault than for crimes against property. Suspected persons were arrested in 86 percent of the murder cases, 65 percent of assault cases, 56 percent of rape cases.

The over-all arrest percentage drops drastically because the volume of burglaries, robberies and other thefts is so large and the general showing so bad. Except for robberies (29 percent arrest clearance), less than two in every ten perpetrators in this general category were ever apprehended.

These available figures for serious crime do not tell all of the story. Every respected study of U.S. crime has concluded there is a substantial amount of totally unreported serious crime. There really is no point in guessing how much. It is enough to know that in many cases a criminal need not even fear police awareness of his offense.

Another thing. For overburdened police forces, a system of priorities is inevitable. When a rash of murders occurs, investigation of less-serious crime falls off.

Worse still, the total load of police work today is so enormous that smaller robberies and a whole host of minor offenses get almost no attention at all. It is not an exaggeration to say that petty thieves just about get a pass in this crime-ridden society. Would you like to try to get your bicycle back?

Understandably, a great deal of furor arose last May when thousands of persons were arrested in Washington, a high proportion without formal charge, during the attempted May Day disruptions. Naturally, the innocent cannot be surrogates for the guilty. But hundreds and hundreds of malicious, paint-spraying, rock-throwing vandals went unidentified and untouched that day. No one can guess how very, very many vandals and assaulters of persons go free in the turmoil of protest-riot.

Ann Landers:

High School Editors Reprinting Death Fantasy

Dear Ann Landers: The letter from the 17-year-old who fantasized about his death in an automobile accident was one of the most blood-chilling but effective pieces of writing I have ever read. Thank you for printing it, Ann. Here is another bit of fantasy. If you think it has value, publish it because it is 95 percent true. The only sentence that is an invention is the first one.

Dear 17 and Too Young to Die: I am the old lady you chose to pass on the highway at the wrong moment. I would give anything if I could trade places with you. I am 67 and have known for some time that I will die within a year from an incurable illness. I am able to function at present, but it is just a matter of time before I will be bed-ridden and then the agony of wasting away.

What a cruel trick of fate that a person who would welcome death is denied it while a young lad such as you... so full of the exuberance of life, with the whole world at his feet, should be snuffed out like a candle in the wind.

A word to the young and healthy, to those who have dreams and hopes: Savor each moment, enjoy what you have. Cherish every day. But be careful. Live not for the moment, but for the years ahead that can be yours.—Alaska

Dear Alaska: Thank you for a beautiful bit of philosophy. It will please you to know that the letter you wrote about will continue to be read by teenagers all over the country. More than 100 high school editors asked for permission to reprint that letter in their school papers.

Dear Ann Landers: You are out of your corn-pickin' mind. Your advice to the woman over 40 who is a competent and experienced secretary but no 36-26-34 stunk out loud. You suggested that she let her friends know she is looking for a job.

Don't you realize that the losers have no friends? The moment they lose—whether it's a job, a spouse, a child, or money—they find out what it's like to be alone. It's the same the world over. There's a great flurry of attention—for four days. Then comes the well-worn phrase—"If I can do anything, just let me know." After that, it's a total fade out, and they are never heard from again.

If you're going to be an effective adviser, you'd better pull off the rose-colored glasses and tell it like it is, Annie Baby. The 40-plus gal who wrote was giving you the straight story. Women over 40 ARE discriminated against in the job market and that's the god's truth.—Another Texas Retread

Dear Texas: The cynical tone of your letter indicates that you've had some bitter experiences and I'm sorry. Yes, I know life isn't a bed of roses, but it isn't a garbage dump, either. People can be lousy, but they can be beautiful, too. Here's a letter which might help you—and others:

Dear Ann: Did you know that in 1968 Congress passed the "Age Discrimination Employment Act?" The purpose: To promote employment on the basis of ability, not age. The existence of this federal statute and similar state laws is little known, even among attorneys. You could perform a useful service by informing your readers that they do have legal recourse if they are discriminated against because of age. It's illegal.—R.C. New Rochelle

Dear R.C.: Ann Landers learned something today—and so did 54 million others. It was good of you to write. Thank you.

YOUR BIRTHDAY AND HOROSCOPE

By STELLA WILDER

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 2—Born today, you are a highly independent person who actually fears having to rely on others. If a man, you are inclined to give off an air of superiority that could set your co-workers against you were you not careful to control it. If a woman, you may well gain a reputation for snobbishness among other women—though your reputation among men will probably not suffer at all. Man or woman, you would do yourself a service were you to cultivate an air of friendliness. Though you are careful not to work to the point of overdoing, you do not find it easy to relax. Indeed, your natural vitality makes it almost impossible for you to get the amount and kind of rest you need; indeed, when the work that has been assigned to you is done, you set new goals for yourself, determined not to waste time or energy on trivia. Remember, however, that rest and relaxation are not "trivia." Your tendency to grant others

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Don't Be Ashamed Of Problem

Doctor Can Diagnose Worms

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—Two years ago after having a bad case of flu I went to blow my nose and what I thought was accumulation of mucus, about the size of a ball point pen, came out. Three months ago I coughed and the same thing happened, only I had to grab a hold of it and pull it out. I am wondering if this could have been a tapeworm. If it were mucus, it would have broken. There were no signs of a head. I am 67 and tire so easy. I have headaches all the time. Up until a year ago I worked as a saleslady for 40 years. So I am not lazy, just don't feel like doing anything. How can I tell if this is a tapeworm? I am ashamed to even go see a doctor about it.

Dear Reader—It isn't a tapeworm. They are flat like a tape measure and connected in segments which break apart easily. About the only worm that could conceivably be near the size and shape you describe would be a "round worm" (ascariasis). Adult worms have been described coming from the nose and even the ear. I am skeptical about your having any infestation. If you had any real thought at the time that the object was a worm, you should have saved it to let the doctor examine it. If you do have a round worm infection, your doctor can easily diagnose it from eggs in your stool.

Go see your doctor. You won't be the first patient who ever worried about worms; and if you have them, they won't be the first worms he has seen. You need to find out why you are so tired and have so many headaches.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I wish there was some nice, clean way to ask this question, but I have pondered over it for nearly a year and can't find any special way, so here goes. There is something that feels like an inner tube, or even firmer, hanging out of my vagina—what is it and what to do?

Also, I stopped menstruating when I was 37, one year after my fourth baby was born. I stopped completely. I am now 61 years old. If I ever start again, will it be cancer?

Dear Reader—Your problem is most likely related to your four pregnancies. With childbirth the muscles at the outlet of the pelvis and those that provide support to the uterus and bladder are often stretched or even torn. The uterus and bladder tend to fall through the pelvis and cause the vaginal wall to protrude. Sometimes a woman is more apt to get infections of the bladder with this type of problem.

The difficulty can be corrected surgically by replacing the structures and tightening up the relaxed or torn muscles.

Bleeding after the menopause does not always signal cancer, but it is certainly a valid reason for an immediate examination since it can be.

Please send your questions and comments to Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Lamb cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Oswald: "Ely Culbertson was a great showman and publicity genius. Back in 1935 he persuaded Hal and Dorothy Sims to play a rubber bridge match against him and Jo Culbertson. The match was a natural from a publicity standpoint and also a cinch for Ely. Jo Culbertson was a great player; Dorothy Sims a poor one."

Jim: "Here is a hand which shows Jo Culbertson at her best. It also indicates why the Simses had no chance. Three no-trump was unbeatable but Hal wanted to score his honors and also to play the hand."

Oswald: "Jo opened the four of spades. She could see that Ely would not show up with much and decided on desperate measures."

Jim: "The desperate measures succeeded. Sims elected to try dummy's jack of spades at trick one. Ely produced the queen and returned a trump. Sims drew trumps and decided to knock out the ace of clubs. Jo went up with the ace and underled her ace of spades a second time. No one can blame Sims for going wrong and playing low from dummy."

Oswald: "Hal could also have made the hand by taking a diamond finesse and discarding a spade, but that play would be bad percentage. He was sure of his contract if East held the ace of clubs and still had a chance in spades after Jo won the club trick."

Put Those Old Wigs To Some New Uses

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—Betty S. could use her old wigs for dad or the kids to wear as part of their costumes for costume parties. They could be dyed green, made into Shirley Temple curls, etc. A local school might like to have them for use in their plays. Of course, they should be clean when sent and the children could wear their own stocking caps under the wigs as a sanitary measure.—DOROTHY

DEAR POLLY—Betty S. might use her old wig to make some pin-on curls and tendrils. Cut six-inch lengths about the thickness of a pencil. Use surgical glue to paste ends together. Tie up the ends with heavy thread. To pin on, slip a bobby pin through the tie.—SUZANNE

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—My two little boys have scratched my front living room window with their toys or sharp instruments, and I would like to know if there is any way I can remove these scratches.—GERALDINE

DEAR POLLY—We buy flour in 50-pound bags and these cloth bags could so easily be used for making pillow slips, aprons, dish towels, clothespin bags, etc., but they are printed in blue and red colors that will not wash out. Why can't these bags be printed with floral or other attractive patterns and then printed paper labels attached to the bags. I for one simply refuse to buy the bag with the label smeared all over it in stubborn ink.—MRS. A.K.

DEAR POLLY—Those who like to sew but hate the back-breaking job of bending over the kitchen table to cut out garments might do as I do. Four one-pound-sized cans, opened or unopened, can solve the problem. Place one under each ta-never again will he be confused about which socks to wear.—MRS. F.T.

Business — Market Wrapup

Business Mirror

By DAVID BURKE
AP Business Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Americans are expected to spend $1.4 billion on dog and cat food this year, according to the Pet Food Institute, an industry trade association.

This represents a 14 per cent increase over last year for an industry that in the past has been growing at an annual rate of 10 per cent, industry spokesmen say.

"And the market still remains largely untapped," says Bill Stirtz, a vice president at Ralston Purina, makers of Dog Chow and Chuck Wagon brands.

If America's family-owned dogs and cats ate only commercially prepared food, instead of table scraps and regular human food, he says, "The market would be perhaps three times its current size."

Pet food companies are spending heavily to increase their share of the market, trying to convince families that commercially prepared food is more nutritious than table scraps.

Ralston Purina's animal nutrition expert, Dr. Jim Corbin says: "America's dogs and cats receive better balanced rations when fed the best commercial diets than the majority of America's children receive."

Advertising expenses will jump nearly 40 per cent this year to $75 million, says a spokesman for Quaker Oats, producers of the Ken-L Ration and Puss n Boots line. Quaker Oats has approximately doubled its outlay, he says.

The industry is aided in its effort by the growing trend toward convenience foods for humans, Stirtz says. The family that sups on a TV dinner will have fewer table scraps to feed the dog, he notes.

Also, more people are buying purebred dogs, says a spokesman for the Friskies Pet Foods Division of Carnation Co. "These animals represent a sizeable investment, and people tend to be more conscious of their diets," he declares.

Specialty diets are available for the ailing. Pfizer Co., for example, puts out a low sodium food for dogs with heart conditions and a bland mixture for animals with stomach problems. These specialty foods, available only from veterinarians, constitute only a small part of the pet food market, a spokesman says.

The Pet Food Institute estimates that there are presently about 33 million dogs and 22 million cats in American households. While the pet cat population has apparently remained fairly stable in recent years, family-owned dogs have been increasing at a rate of about 5 per cent a year, it says.

The average dog in the United States this year will consume about $29 worth of commercial dog food. His feline counterpart will eat about $18 in commercial food, the institute notes.

Credit Union Members Seek Rule Changes

By CARLTON SMITH

Another one of life's injustices: Your lifetime savings are sitting there in an account, fully insured up to $20,000, absolutely safe... and you can't get your hands on a nickel of it at a time when you desperately need money.

That's been the plight of several hundred families in a small Pennsylvania city, near Philadelphia, since last June 2. Employees of a plant there reported for work that morning to find the company was closing its doors with no advance notice.

That meant the B.E.C. Federal Credit Union had to be liquidated. It was a perfectly sound operation, but there was no way to keep it alive. Credit unions exist by virtue of a

SOYBEAN, GRAIN FUTURES DECLINE

CHICAGO (AP) — Heavy selling hit commodity futures on the Chicago Board of Trade Monday.

Soybean futures were under most active liquidating pressure, easing 3 cents a bushel. Wheat was down 1 1/4 cents, oats 1 1/4 cents and corn 1/2 cent. Soybean oil was down 20 points and meal declined 50 cents a ton. Iced broilers were little changed in very light trade.

The selling pressure was strong with the opening bell in the major pits. Commercial hedging against purchases in the country was noted in the soybean and corn pits, and for the first few minutes was easily absorbed by assorted buying interest. When new selling entered the pits, however, buyers were notably wary. Soybean oil and meal were similarly under selling pressure, and some of the new weakness in beans was attributed to the declines in oil and meal.

Trade sources thought that the longshoremen's strike could now possibly end, with court action over last weekend, and this was a factor in the selling of futures. With longshoremen returning to work at major West Coast ports, as ordered, the exporting of agricultural products could once more resume and the buildup of stocks here ease.

Wheat, corn and oats also were under selling pressure with the opening bell, but the decline was not so steep as in beans. Trade in the three grains also was lighter.

After about an hour, soybeans were 1 1/2 to 3 cents a bushel lower, November 3 1/4, wheat was 1/4 to 1/2 lower, December 1.60 1/4; corn was 1/2 to 3/4 lower, December 1.15 1/2 and oats were 1/4 to 1/2 lower, December 73 1/2 cents.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market plunged to a new 1971 closing low Monday. The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks dropped 13.14 points to 825.86, lowest level since last Dec. 23. On that day it closed at 823.11.

Monday's 13.14 decline was the largest single-day loss since Aug. 18, when the blue-chip indicator fell 13.73 points.

Analysts blamed the sharp downturn primarily on technical factors. They pointed out, however, that investors were still showing considerable uncertainty over the consequences of Phase 2 of President Nixon's economic program.

When the market failed to sustain the feeble rally begun last Thursday, many investors became disheartened, analysts said.

Then, when the Dow average fell below the 830 support level, a new wave of pessimism hammered prices even lower, they declared.

Once the selling began, there was insufficient buying interest to absorb the stock coming into the market, analysts explained, and this resulted in large price declines.

However, they noted that selling was quiet and orderly throughout the day, indicating that many traders continued to sit on the sidelines.

Volume on the New York Stock Exchange totaled 10.96 million shares, compared with 11.71 million shares Friday.

Of the 1,686 stocks traded on the Big Board, 291 advanced, and 1,148 declined. There were 6 new highs and 138 new lows for the year.

The New York Stock Exchange index of some 1,300 common stocks dropped 0.77 to 51.30.

Stocks were lower in virtually all categories. The Associated Press 60-stock average fell 5.1 to 303.5, with industrials off 7.5, rails off 3.8, and utilities off 1.0.

Forty-five blocks of 10,000 shares or over were traded on the Big Board, compared with a revised total of 118 Friday.

Airco Inc. was most active on the big board, losing 1 1/4 to 18 1/2. Trading was paced by a 119,200 share block traded at 16 1/4, off 1 1/4.

Of the 20 most actively traded Big Board issues, all showed declines. On the American Stock Exchange, the price-change index dropped 0.21 to 24.40. Of the 1,136 stocks traded, 177 advanced, and 729 declined. Volume totaled 2.8 million shares, compared with 2.9 million shares Friday.

Senate Urged To Set Up Panel To Improve FBI

PRINCETON, N.J. (UPI)—Three co-chairmen at the conference on the FBI have urged the Senate to take the initiative in setting up a national commission that would try to improve the bureau.

They said the commission should also try to "draw the line" between bureau enforcement duties and "its role in political surveillance."

The three suggested that since the Senate now has the power to approve the next FBI director, it might assume the task of setting up such a commission "that would answer many of the questions raised here."

The statement was issued Saturday by Co-Chairmen Burke Marshall of Yale Law School, New York University law professor Norman Dorsen and Duane Lockhard, chairman of the Public Department at Princeton University, at the end of a two-day conference.

They also suggested that the proposed commission study the formation of a board of overseers to review FBI operations and appointment of an ombudsman to handle citizen complaints.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover had declined to send a representative to the conference, but he sent a 3,400 word letter he termed a "defense" of the FBI that was distributed to participants here.

The session was sponsored jointly by Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs and the Committee for Public Justice.

Boyle's Mailbag

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Air pollution may cause another ice age, warns a Japanese meteorologist, Dr. Tadashi Yano. He says that in the last 30 years waste particles in the atmosphere have already blocked enough sunlight to cause the average world temperature to drop nearly one degree.

Earthquake damage isn't limited to California or Alaska. Scientists say major destructive quakes can occur in at least 19 other states. They are Nevada, Washington, Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, Utah, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Kentucky, Indiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, South Carolina, New York, Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, and Massachusetts.

How much do you spend for food? The average American spends 18.4 per cent of his disposable income for food. In England the figure is 26 per cent; in West Germany, 28 per cent; in France, 31 per cent; in Japan, 40 per cent; in Russia, 50 per cent.

Quotable notables: "In the end, it will be the family way of life that will persevere. The family changes, but it will never disappear. Every attempt to eliminate the family has failed."—Margaret Mead.

Lower than lower: If you want to get away from it all, one of the best places to go would be at the bottom of the Mariana Trench in the Pacific Ocean. According to the National Geographic Society, that is the globe's greatest watery depth at 36,198 feet.

Funny Marksmen: Some fish can shoot down their prey. One variety, the archer fish of Australia, is only nine inches long but can fire a jet of water that will bring down an insect three to four feet away. The fish does it by filling its mouth with water, then flapping its gills shut sharply.

Gerald Garner Of Cass Dies; Rites Tuesday

Gerald Garner, 60-year-old Chandlerville man died Saturday in Jacksonville following an extended illness.
He was born in Cass county April 22, 1911, son of James Harley and Minnie Mae Carr Garner. Mr. Garner never married.

Two sisters, Mrs. Roberta Lewis of Virginia and Mrs. Vivian Murphy of Jacksonville, survive.

Three Overcome By Exhaust Gas During Trip

Three persons were rushed to Passavant hospital shortly before 5:30 p.m. Sunday after they were overcome by automobile exhaust fumes.

Treated and later released were 24-year-old Ron Suffer of Jacksonville; his mother, Velma Suffer of Springfield; and a grandmother, Inez Casper, also of Springfield.

Ron Suffer was the driver of a car in which the three had ridden from Springfield to Jacksonville. During the drive, carbon monoxide apparently sifted into the auto from a faulty exhaust system.

Although feeling effects of the carbon monoxide, Suffer was able to drive the car to the Elm City Rehabilitation Bachelor Living quarters at 623 West State. He collapsed upon entering the quarters and residents there summoned Lowe ambulance.

Three ambulances were taken to the scene and ambulance personnel administered oxygen to the three persons before and during the trip to the hospital.

Trinity Will Host World Community Service This Friday

World Community day will be observed in Jacksonville at 1:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 5, at the Trinity Episcopal Church, under the leadership of Church Women United. Joining with church women of over 5,000 communities in the nation, women from local churches in CWU will take part in a program based on "Build a New Earth." The speaker will be Dr. Ann Larson, assistant professor of biology at Illinois College.

"The deterioration of the environment has become one of the most important problems facing mankind today," states Mrs. James Bair, local chairman for World Community Day. "This year's theme emphasizes our human responsibility for the human environment, not only for sheer survival, but for the mental, moral and spiritual surroundings and circumstances that affect human growth."

A Fellowship Tea will follow the service. Sitters for small children will be provided, according to Mrs. Joe Patterson Smith of the World Community Day committee and representative for Trinity church on the CWU board.

Offerings received from World Community Day church services go toward Intercontinental Mission, which includes all projects approved by CWU board of managers upon recommendation of responsible inter-church agencies, and serves people's needs in this country and abroad. Of special concern will be ecological causes. For example, new ways of interpreting the Christian message in our national parks through experimental seminary interns, and help in establishing ecology training centers.

Locally, church women have promoted the sale of $3 gift certificates to be used as indicated by the donor for either a blanket to be sent to disaster areas (part of the 1970 funds were responsible for the first blankets to reach Peru); or school supplies in developing nations; or tools and materials for home-building in poverty areas of Appalachia, Mississippi, and southwest Texas; or "where most needed" providing funds for self-help projects, family service centers and many other aids for emergency situations.

Also, local women will display garments they have sewed according to instructions in Church World Service kits for children overseas. These will be sent in the next CWS Clothing Appeal collection November 13 and 14.

UNICEF Christmas cards, notes and calendars will be displayed by Mrs. Friedrich Engelbach, chairman for CWU of this project.

Since 1942, World Community Day has been sponsored by CWU to emphasize corporate action for justice and peace. Church women have always worked together across racial, denominational, and economic lines to meet human needs.

Wealth, Youth Team To Make Traveling Fun

DETROIT (AP)—Like many others, John Mosele decided that the best time to travel is while he's young enough to enjoy it.

There Mosele's similarity to other travelers ends. The 41-year-old Chicago contractor bought an old 147-foot fishing schooner and set off on a year's trip around the world with a 26-member crew.

The boatload—Mosele, his wife, their 11 children, a professional sailor and captain, long-time friends and a 22-year-old girl who quit her job to join the cruise—reached Detroit last weekend on their way out the St. Lawrence, down the Atlantic, through the Panama Canal and on around the world.

"I think a trip like this is everyone's ambition," Mosele said. "I'm making that ambition come true for me."

Only the Captain, Aubrey Blackman, and one of the crew have any sailing experience, but Mosele said he wasn't worried.

"We'll learn as we go along," he said.

Mosele said he bought the boat about two months ago for "a little less than $200,000." The black, two-masted schooner has a 300-horsepower engine, but Mosele hopes to use the sails as much as possible.

The schooner—named the Harry W. Adams after an old New England fishing family—was built in 1938, and Mosele believes it the largest private sailboat in North America.

It has four cabins, extra bunk beds in the forecabin, a mess hall with long wooden tables and an automatic washing machine.

Sailing weather has been good so far, except for one night last week when they ran into a 50 mile-per-hour gale on Lake Michigan.

"Almost everyone got seasick that night," admitted Peggy Henschel, who left her bank job and joined the crew when she read about the trip in Chicago newspapers. "We were pretty scared."

Colt Denies Hiding Defects In M16 Rifles

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — One of the nation's major gun manufacturers has denied charges that it tries to hide defects of the M16 rifle from government inspectors.

A consumer group organized by Ralph Nader charged that Colt's Firearms Group has "engaged in deceit and deception to subvert government testing procedures designed to insure the reliability of the M16 rifle in combat."

The M16 is the American soldier's basic weapon in Vietnam.

The company issued a statement Monday denying the charges and said the "M16 is the finest military rifle ever put into the hands of troops. Its battlefield performance bears that out. Colt's has produced 2.5 million M16 rifles in conformance with all quality standards and continues to do so."

The Connecticut Citizens' Action Group charged that the "deceit and deception" activities took place at the company's testing range in West Hartford where selected weapons from each shipment of 6,000 are examined before the government accepts them.

The CCAG said it obtained testimony from five employees at Colt's and from "various experts on quality control."

The report said the employees told of standing company orders to exchange weakened parts in the endurance test rifles for new parts from the assembly line.

a $3.1-billion foreign aid program, but only by a 10-vote margin.

Mahon said he hopes the House could pass such a resolution by the middle of next week, to give the Senate time to act before Nov. 15, when the Agency for International Development will run out of money without congressional action.

His idea is a resolution that would continue aid spending authority for 30 more days, or until the end of the current congressional session, at about $2.9 billion, the level that would have been authorized by the rejected Senate bill.

Fulbright said the critical issue to him would be the military side of foreign aid, particularly such items as the sharply increased allowance for Cambodia, which would have received $341 million under the defeated Senate bill.

He said the Foreign Relations Committee wants to discuss the whole situation with Secretary of State William P. Rogers and AID administrator John A. Hannah, as soon as possible. Fulbright said he hoped they could appear before the panel within the next few days.

Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott forecast adoption of a stopgap resolution, then an interim aid bill, with an overhauled and more permanent aid program put off until next year.

Any interim bill almost certainly would be cut sharply by the currently proposed levels, and there undoubtedly would be Senate moves to cut the spending envisioned in a temporary resolution.

'War Of Worlds' Touches Off Flood Of Calls

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Despite advance billing, a radio station's localized version of H. G. Wells' "War of the Worlds" touched off a flood of telephone calls to news media and law enforcement offices.

Preceded by a five-minute explanation of the nature of the presentation, the program started shortly before 11 p.m. as a bogus news bulletin reporting a Martian landing at nearby Grand Island.

Bruce Kaplan, the line disc jockey on duty at the station, said he was swamped with calls.

Buffalo police received some 100 calls and news media in Boston, Washington, New York, Rochester and Providence, R.I., also received inquiries.

An officer at the State Police barracks in Buffalo said 18 calls had been received there.

The station had presented its version of the Wells classic on the past three Halloween nights and Sunday night's program was promoted with spot announcements throughout the preceding week, a station spokesman said.

Watch Elections As Hints Of '72

WASHINGTON (AP) — Elections across the country Tuesday are being watched for trends and hints for the presidential politics of 1972 despite a remarkable absence of national involvement in most of them.

The Kentucky gubernatorial race has been billed locally as a test of the Nixon administration but the national GOP has been careful to leave it strictly to the home team.

Kentucky is one of those border states President Nixon needs to fare well in to win re-election next year. Republicans took the governorship four years ago and are fighting uphill to keep it.

Wendell Ford, the insurance man nominated by the Democrats, has referred to his campaign as the first step in the overturn of Nixon. Thomas Emberton, the GOP nominee, has tried to hold the campaigning to state issues but has been forced to defend Nixon.

Despite this scenario begging for the national parties to send in their big guns, it hasn't happened.

New Jersey voters, who turned the state legislature over to the GOP in a big way in 1967, are expected to give the Democrats a little ground back but probably not enough to stake any trends on.

Still New Jersey stands as one of the next best things to a crystal ball available this year. The 1967 GOP swing foreshadowed a Nixon victory in that state in 1968 and election of a Republican governor in 1969.

The national excitement generated over the mayoral contests on Tuesday's ballots has been more for the good, old-

Man Surrenders After Threat Of Blowing Self Up

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — A 25-year-old man who threatened to blow himself up surrendered to his attorney and Selma's mayor Monday after holding out for about five hours in his parents' home.

Authorities say the man, Jimmy Haynes, had in his possession what he called a bottle of nitroglycerin.

Whether the bottle actually contained nitroglycerin was not immediately determined.

Mayor Joe Smitherman said Haynes surrendered to him and the attorney, Cecil Jackson, after they talked to Haynes in his parents' home for some 30 minutes.

Haynes was taken to a local hospital after his surrender and placed under protective guard.

No charges had been filed against him.

Smitherman said Haynes pulled the bottle of what he said was nitroglycerin out of his pocket when he gave up. The bottle was turned over to demolition experts.

Haynes had been a city fireman and Smitherman knew him personally.

Officials said Haynes had been a client of Jackson's for about a year and was living in Atlanta, Ga., but had come to visit his parents for the weekend.

Authorities gave this account of the Haynes incident: His mother had made an appointment for Monday to see Jackson about getting Haynes committed to a hospital. He had been in a mental hospital before.

When Haynes arrived at Jackson's office for the appointment, he refused to go in and announced that he had a bomb strapped to his body and would blow himself up.

After walking up and down the street in front of Jackson's office, Haynes was persuaded by relatives to go home.

Haynes' parents and an aunt and uncle were with him in the house for about four hours before Smitherman and Jackson entered.

Smitherman said the young man gave up after they promised he would not be sent off.

During the time Haynes was in the house, the surrounding area was sealed off and people evacuated.

Heart Association Reviews Activities

The Morgan County Heart Association had a good attendance for its October meeting with Russel Kinzinger, field director, presenting a film entitled "Three Times a Day," concerned with improper eating habits and improper nutrition. A recipe booklet containing low cholesterol, low animal fat menus is available from the Illinois Heart Association, Box 2686, Springfield, 62708, and anyone interested in receiving this booklet is invited to order it by mail. The Heart Association is actively interested in providing this valuable information to interested citizens and is co-sponsoring local seminars, in conjunction with the Morgan County Home Extension, on this subject.

Mrs. Edward A. Jackson, association president, announced that 138 registrations have been received to date for the stroke rehabilitation seminar to be held at the Jacksonville State Hospital on November 3 and 4. Officers of the association will assist with the donuts-and-coffee breaks both days.

It was also announced that Delta Nu Chapter, Delta Theta Tau Sorority, will pack the 800 kits needed for the annual Heart Fund drive next year.

Mrs. Harold Stewart was presented with a belated award for the year 1970-71 in recognition of her help and assistance during that year.

Citizens interested in assisting the Heart Fund with purchase of Christmas cards may order them direct from the Illinois Heart Association, at the address given in this article.

The next meeting of the Morgan County Heart Association will be held at the Beef and the Bird restaurant at noon on November 23. All citizens interested in the work of the association are invited to make reservations for the meetings.

'SMUT' Campaign To Involve Students

A "SMUT" campaign has been launched to involve students in cleaning up the city.

"SMUT" (Student March Upon Trash) will start Tuesday, Nov. 2, and conclude on Saturday, Nov. 6. Children from kindergarten through ninth grade will converge on streets, alleys, lawns, and parks of the city to clean up and get as much trash as possible out of the city.

The contest for local school age children was the inspiration of members of the "Multi-County Environmental Organization."

The collection will start Tuesday when interested children will receive plastic bags at school. Two return locations for the trash have been arranged. One location is the vacant lot on the north side of the square next to the Sears store and in a section of the Lincoln Square shopping center parking lot.

Children must bring the collected trash to only these two locations.

Children are being encouraged to participate in "SMUT" to help clean the city of trash, paper and unsightly items.

Monetary prizes for the three top collectors in each category will be made following tabulation of the quantity collected.

The division breakdown is kindergarten through third grade, fourth through sixth, and seventh through ninth. Cash prizes are through the courtesy of the Woman's Division of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce and will be awarded on the basis of the number of bags collected and properly turned in as set by the rules.

Trash should be collected from school areas, streets, alleys or anywhere that trash has collected.

Contest Rules

- 1—Clean up collection will be held on Saturday, Nov. 6, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.
- 2—Students who attend Jacksonville schools and are in grades K through 9 are eligible.
- 3—Each student will receive one bag at school. The teacher will have a set of rules. Additional bags will be available at school during the week, or at the collection center on Saturday.
- 4—Bags are to be filled with litter. No garbage, leaves or glass is to be put in the bags. Any glass collected must be put in boxes. Glass in the bags will disqualify the students.
- 5—Cash prizes will be awarded to those students who fill the most bags. The filled bags are to be turned in at either of the two collection centers. Collection centers are located at the shopping center parking lot and the North Side of the downtown square at the vacant lot next to Sears.

Awards are: Grades K, 1, 2, 3 — $5, $2.50, $2.50. Grades 4, 5, 6 — $10, $7.50, $5. Grades 7, 8, 9 — $15, $10, $7.50.

Navy Jet Dummy-Bombs Tennessee Home

STRAWBERRY PLAINS, Tenn. (AP) — The Navy is trying to find out what happened to send a 900-pound non-explosive missile plunging from a Navy plane, demolishing the home of a state judge here.

There were no injuries when the 6-foot unarmed Walleye missile tore through the roof and two floors of the three-story wood frame dwelling before exiting through a wall and winding up on a patio.

The son of Judge James Parrott of the Tennessee Court of Appeals and the judge's mother-in-law were in separate parts of the home in the East Tennessee community when the missile hit Sunday. The rest of the family was in church.

The Navy said Cmdr. Virgil Tedder was on a routine training flight out of the Naval Air Station of Marietta, Ga., when the missile was released.

A Defense Department spokesman said the missile normally could be jettisoned only under emergency conditions.

The impact shifted the $40,000 house on its foundation as the missile smashed into the dwelling and Parrott said he considered his home a total loss.

Surprising Bears Have Many Stars

CHICAGO (AP) — "Run, run, as fast as you can, you can't catch me I'm the gingerbread man," sang a happy Ron Smith, the Chicago Bears' hard-nosed kick return man.

Smith was one of many Chicago Bears stars Sunday in the wake of a stunning 23-19 victory over the Dallas Cowboys in a game in which the Cowboys totaled 481 yards on offense to 194 by the Bears.

Smith disdains the fair catch signal on punts and seldom allows Cecil Turner to return the kickoffs any longer. He returned a kickoff 38 yards in the fourth quarter to set up the Bears' final and winning touchdown.

There are those who fear Smith will get broken in two one of these days but the freckle-faced veteran of seven years laughs off such warnings.

"If I were afraid I wouldn't be helping my team," said the 195-pound cornerback. "I catch the ball and go as far down the field as I can. I don't believe there's a man big enough in this league to tear me apart. And when I get going a step or two, the combination of my weight and speed equalize matters against those 260-pounders."

Then Smith, who returned three punts for 44 yards and three kickoffs for 91 yards went into his gingerbread man routine.

The shuttling quarterback system would have worked if we hadn't made so many mistakes," said Cowboy Coach Tom Landry, "but I don't think we'll use it again."

Dallas drove 68 yards for a touchdown the first time the Cowboys got the ball to take a 7-0 lead. The Bears came right back to tie it with quarterback Bobby Douglass going nine yards on an option play for the score.

Three field goals by Mac Percival, who once toiled for the Cowboys, gave the Bears a 16-9 lead as Dallas picked up two points on a safety.

Dallas picked up three points on a field goal by Mike Clark, who missed three others, to make it 16-12. Smith's return of the ensuing kickoff gave the Bears fine field position.

Douglass then hit Dick Gordon with a 26-yard pass and came back with a 28-yard touchdown shot to Gordon to put the Bears into a comfortable 23-12 lead.

"I would have gone all the way if it hadn't been for Mel Renfro," said Smith. "He's the one guy I can't beat. Even when I was with Los Angeles, he's the guy that would stop me. This time when I thought I had cleared the field, I looked up and there was No. 20 in front of me."

The Bears boosted their record to 5-2 to remain one game behind Minnesota in their division. Dallas dropped to 4-3 and two games behind Washington in their division.

Michigan Making Own Claim To No. 1

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With Nebraska and Oklahoma continuing their merry chase toward a Thanksgiving Day college football showdown, there has been a tendency to overlook Michigan, but the unbeaten Wolverines put a stop to that trend Saturday with a 61-7 rout of Indiana.

"Our goal is to go undefeated and win the Rose Bowl," said star runner Billy Taylor, who ripped the Indiana defenses for 172 yards and two touchdowns on only 11 carries, boosting his school record to 2,694 yards and coming within three of Tom Harmon's career mark of 33 touchdowns. "Then they will have to pick us No. 1. I think we're No. 1 right now."

The Wolverines currently are ranked third behind Nebraska and Oklahoma. Nebraska defeated ninth-rated Colorado 31-7 while Oklahoma overpowered Iowa State 43-12.

The top seven teams all maintained their perfect states. Fourth-ranked Alabama trimmed Mississippi State 41-10, No. 5 Auburn downed Florida 40-7, sixth-rated Penn State took West Virginia 35-7 and Georgia, No. 7, stopped South Carolina 24-0, the third consecutive shutout turned in by the Bulldog defenders, who have permitted only 21 points in their last seven games.

The three other major unbeaten continued their winning ways, but two of them needed late field goals. Toledo, ranked 15th, upped the nation's longest winning streak to 31 games by trouncing Miami of Ohio 45-6, matching the 1948-50 Oklahoma teams for the second longest streak in modern times.

Cornell and Dartmouth, the Ivy League pacesetters, are heading for a Nov. 13 confrontation. Cornell's Ed Mariano gained 272 yards, erasing the major college career rushing standard of Oklahoma's Steve Owens and passing the 4,000-yard barrier, but the Big Red needed John Killian's 37-yard field goal with five minutes left after Mariano carried the ball on nine consecutive plays to edge Columbia 24-21. Dartmouth nipped Yale 17-15 on Ted Perry's 40-yard three-pointer with 53 seconds to play.

Rounding out the Top Ten, ninth-ranked Arkansas suffered its second big upset, bowing to Texas A&M 17-9 behind Mark Green's two touchdowns and a defense that prevented the Razorbacks from establishing a running attack. Ohio State, ranked 10th, stopped Minnesota's Craig Curry inches short of the goal line on a disputed fourth-quarter two-point conversion attempt to preserve a 14-12 triumph over the Gophers.

Miracle-Man Blanda Reaches Milestone

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Oakland Raiders again are letting George do it—and 44-year-old George Blanda, the oldest player in pro football, is not letting them down, but keeping them up.

Blanda, whose amazing career started in 1949 and now is in its fourth decade, became the game's all-time leading scorer Sunday as he rallied the Raiders to a 20-20 tie with Kansas City and kept Oakland in a first-place tie with the Chiefs in the Western Division of the American Football Conference.

Blanda, who replaced starter Daryle Lamonica the last two weeks Oakland had the ball, fired a 24-yard touchdown pass to Fred Biletnikoff, then kicked an eight-yard field goal with 2½ minutes left.

The tying three-pointer and a previous field goal and two conversions gave Blanda a career total of 1,609 points, one more than former Cleveland kicker Lou Groza. Following the eight-yard kick, the game was stopped and Blanda was presented with the football.

"These things just happen to you when you play 22 years," he said.

On Blanda's first play, he hit Ray Chester with a 37-yard strike, and defensive end Aaron Brown of the Chiefs said later "that first pass gave them lots of confidence. . . . George has done this so many times it works for them psychologically."

Two plays later, Blanda connected with Biletnikoff, who had outmaneuvered young cornerback David Handley. Handley had replaced injured starter Jim Marsalis immediately before the play. "I'm sure George knew who we had in there," said Chiefs' Coach Hank Stram.

"George Blanda is a rare individual," said Oakland Coach Kim Madden. "The amazing thing is that he's throwing and kicking better than he did four years ago. We both came to this team the same year and I know he's stronger now than he was then. Don't ask me why. He doesn't have any secret formula that I know about."

The tie kept the Raiders and Chiefs deadlocked with 5-1-1 records.

Elsewhere in the National Football League Sunday, it was: San Francisco 27, New England 10; Miami 20, Los Angeles 14; Washington 24, New Orleans 14; Minnesota 17, New York Giants 10; Atlanta 31, Cleveland 14; Chicago 23, Dallas 19; Baltimore 34, Pittsburgh 21; San Diego 49, New York Jets 21; St. Louis 28, Buffalo 23; Philadelphia 17, Denver 16; and Houston 10, Cincinnati 6.

In a nationally televised game tonight, Detroit will play Green Bay at Milwaukee.

San Francisco, 5-2, took over first place in the National Football Conference's Western Division, one-half game ahead of Los Angeles, beating New England with the help of John Brodie's 71-yard touchdown toss to Gene Washington.

Miami knocked the Rams, 4-21, out of the top spot in the NFC's West, downing Los Angeles on the strength of two scoring strikes by Bob Griese, one a 74-yarder to Paul Warfield. The victory kept the Dolphins in first place in the AFC's East with a 5-1-1 mark, just ahead of Baltimore's 5-2.

Washington, the surprising pacesetter in the NFC's East, built its record to 6-1 and its advantage over runner-up Dallas to two games, holding off New Orleans on Pat Fischer's 53-yard touchdown run with an intercepted pass midway in the final period.

Minnesota, on top in the NFC's Central Division, handed the Giants their fourth consecutive setback on Norm Snead's 55-yard touchdown pass to Bob Grim with 1:04 remaining. The Vikings are 6-1 to 5-2 for second-place Chicago.

Cleveland, 4-3, the AFC's Central Division leader, dropped its second in a row, as former teammate Dick Shiner of Atlanta helped beat them with scoring shots of 39 yards to Ken Burrow and 23 yards to Jim Mitchell.

Chicago was outgained by Dallas 481 yards to 194 and managed only seven first downs against 28, but upset the Cowboys as Bobby Douglass threw one TD pass and scored once, and Mac Percival booted three field goals. The Bears thwarted the Cowboys' offense by recovering three fumbles and intercepting four passes.

Baltimore virtually abandoned its strong running game and took to the air, with Earl Morrall passing for 286 yards and touchdowns of 19 and 49 yards to Willie Richardson and 60 yards to Ray Perkins against Pittsburgh.

San Diego's John Hadl blitzed the Jets' patched-up defense for 19 completions in 27 passes for 358 yards and four touchdowns and scored once as the Chargers overwhelmed New York.

Two touchdown passes by Jim Hart, starting his first game since opening day, helped St. Louis hand winless Buffalo its seventh loss.

Linebacker Bill Hobbs blocked a Denver punt, recovered it and ran six yards for the decisive touchdown in Philadelphia's victory over the Broncos.

Houston posted its first victory under Coach Ed Hughes, edging Cincinnati on Ken Houston's tie-breaking 48-yard touchdown run with an intercepted pass in the third period.

Rather Than Clean-Move!

Long ago I gave up the fall cleaning ritual. I am usually content with tamping things down a bit after uncovering any sweaters, sleds and hockey sticks we might find useful during the winter months.

The theory here is that any article left undisturbed long enough may change from being dusty to having acquired a patina, which not only makes the object valuable but means I never have to wash it.

This is a workable theory only so long as there is room to sit without winding one's feet around tennis racquets and beach balls. Eventually, there is a cleaning problem not to be solved by merely dusting or shaking the curtains.

I always believe I can take a cardboard carton, pick up the summer equipment and place it in the garage until next spring. But, this time, the place in the garage where a carton of beach balls would logically fit is already taken by a carton labeled Boots Too Small. Three Snowsuits. I could take this box down and put it in the attic but the attic is stacked with odd legs from tables (or legs from odd tables), a box of old Army clothes and dozens of mysteriously marked crates, some of which smell of mothballs.

The side hall is filled with surplus books; a rack has been set up in the front hall to accommodate winter coats that cannot be kept in the front hall closet because if you open that door not only will the crossword puzzles and billiard balls fall out but probably the stuffed sailfish will, too. Also, and I expect some sympathy for this, I can no longer use the back door because of a mini-bike in my kitchen.

We all have to know a logistics problem when we see one. I'm not cleaning. We're moving.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — One of the film world's most enduring names, Jackie Cooper at 50 is beginning his fifth career. Or is it his seventh?

He can be seen these days hustling around the set of Columbia's "Stand Up and Be Counted," a comedy about the women's lib movement. Cooper is director, and it's the first time he has directed a feature film.

Jackie Cooper no longer looks like "Skippy," the role that made him a star 40 years ago. The face is lined, but he retains all his hair—and his youthful attitude. No small achievement for a fellow who has endured the ups and downs of a career that started when he was 3.

"That was when they were making silent pictures," he recalled between takes of an airplane sequence with Jacqueline Bisset, and Gary Lockwood. "I made it through to sound (in 'Our Gang, comedies) and was a star by the time I was 8. I even managed to bridge that 'awkward age' that most child actors go through. The war took care of that, too."

Cooper enlisted in the Navy and returned after the war to discover his career as a film actor had slumped.

"I managed to find work, but it was in low-budget Allied Artists pictures," he said. "I couldn't see myself continuing like that."

"About that time I had become acquainted with some New York actors, guys like Keenan Wynn and John Garfield. They made me realize how little I knew about acting. I remember Julie (Garfield) telling me to 'get back to New York where you can learn your craft.'"

Cooper left Hollywood to appear on the stage in "Mister Roberts," later starred on Broadway in "Remains to Be Seen," and "King of Hearts." That was when television was in the ascendancy, and he began appearing in dramatic shows out of New York.

He returned to Hollywood to star in two television series, "The People's Choice" and "Hennessey." Both ran three seasons. Midway in the first series, Cooper began directing the segments, and he both produced and directed "Hennessey."

In 1964, Cooper was placed in charge of production for Screen Gems, the television arm of Columbia.

He left Screen Gems after five years and formed a production company, but he admitted that his heart wasn't in it. "I kept flying over beaches on Baja California—looking for a place to retire."

Producer Michael J. Frankovich changed all that. He picked Cooper to play a harried television executive in "The Love Machine." Said Frankovich: "I was so impressed with Jackie's know-how and enthusiasm that I chose him to direct 'Stand Up and Be Counted.'"

Said Cooper: "I guess I didn't really want to retire. I was just waiting for someone to offer me a job that I really wanted. This is it."

Coaches Corner

Jacksonville High school coach Gary Spangenberg, 20-14 loser to Normal; now 0-4-1: "We still can't seem to get two good halves together. We have been able to play a fairly good half in most of the games and the same was true with Normal. We just got in too big a hole in the first half. Normal is a fine club and to stay that close to them must indicate we did a good job, especially in the second half.

"We felt Fred Rimbey did a good job at middle linebacker and Steve Hilligoss and Steve Foole at defensive tackles had a good game. Normal runs at tackle a lot and to take that much punishment, the tackles must have played well.

"Our offense was mixed up in the first half and we couldn't move. We felt we could move the ball against them before the game. We talked it over at halftime and tried to find their weaknesses and run at them. We were able to move the ball and open up our passing attack. The second half was our best performance overall this year. We would like to have seen what would have happened if we had scored that other touchdown and put the pressure on them.

"We lost Matt Freesen for the season with a dislocated shoulder and his loss will hurt, especially at defensive safety."

Illinois School for the Deaf coach Jim Bonds, 22-14 winner over Kansas Deaf; now 1-5: "We were well pleased. We blocked much better on offense and it was just a good game for us. We were needing a win very badly.

"We had too many standouts to single out a lot of individuals but Aire Buchanan and Kent Calhoun ran well and both Bob Smania and Tony Heller performed well at quarterback. In the line we had some good blocking and played much better defense against the run. Our pass defense still wasn't much.

"We just hope that it will be contagious and maybe we can finish up winning. We have a tall order this Friday, however."

Illinois College coach Joe Brooks, 34-6 loser to Illinois Benedictine; now 3-3: "They had a great team. I can see why they are rated 14th in the nation in NAIA Division Two. They impressed me a great deal on both offense and defense. It was just a hectic afternoon. Our passing game was again disappointing, but we will continue to work at it.

"The bright spot of the game was the performance of some young people we tried when the game got out of reach, to give them experience. Freshman Craig Weber did a good job with the option and there were some others in the line. Bob Hecquet played well on defense and Mike Bartlett did a good job both ways.

"We have to get up off the canvas and come back after losing two in a row. These next two games will be tough, but they aren't of the caliber of this last one. Both Rose-Hulman and Illinois Benedictine said that they played their best games of the year against us."

Routt coach Larry Pacotti, 14-6 winner over Calhoun; now 6-1: "We had a very poor first half but came to life in the second half. The punt return for a touchdown by Stuart Splain was the game, although Paul Kaufmann and Bob Ryan were tremendous in the second half. Kaufmann blocked a field goal and Ryan ran it back to set up the second score. Ryan also had nine unassisted tackles and blocked well.

"Our defense was tremendous in the second half. Calhoun is as good as any team we've played all year. They hit the best and had the best backfield. We had to be pleased to get a win over such a fine team."

ITHACA, N.Y.: Cornell's All America Ed Marinaro (44) throws his arms up after running for enough yardage in first period against Columbia Saturday to break Steve Owens' mark of 3,867 yards rushing in three years (1967-69) at Oklahoma.

Marinaro Great When Relaxed

Ed Marinaro does unusual things when he's relaxed.

Like gain 200 yards.

The 6-foot-2 1/2, 210-pound senior from New Milford, N.J., became the first player in college football history to gain 4,000 career yards rushing Saturday when he carried 47 times for 272 yards to lead unbeaten Cornell to a 24-21 victory over Columbia and its sixth straight win.

Marinaro went into the contest seven yards behind the previous record of 3,867 yards established two years ago by Oklahoma's Steve Owens. He eclipsed the record on his second rush, —a three yard plunge up the middle —and ran his career total to 4,132 yards ... and his team still has three games remaining on its schedule.

Marinaro, who lifts weights before and after each practice and before games, picked up 900 of his 772 yards during the second half, when he said he felt "more relaxed."

The Heisman Trophy candidate had felt the tension of the publicity buildup surround the record-setting possibility all week.

"I wanted to get it over with and get on with the ball game,"

Jose Napoles Suspended, Title Taken

NEW YORK (AP) — World welterweight champion Jose Napoles of Mexico was suspended Monday by the New York State Athletic Commission which also withdrew its title recognition.

The Commission charged that Napoles and his manager, Alfredo Cruz, who also was suspended, failed to fulfill a contract with the Canastota Boxing Club, Inc., within 120 days after the championship bout with Billy Backus on June 4, 1971, providing Napoles retained the title.

Commission Chairman Edwin B. Dooley said.

Napoles did regain the title by stopping Backus in eight rounds in Los Angeles. Backus, who was named as Napoles' opponent under the contract in question, had won the title by stopping the Cuban-born Mexican citizen in four rounds in Syracuse, Dec. 3, 1970.

"The commission is urging recognized fight promoters to undertake an elimination tournament among leading welterweight contenders to determine a new champion," Dooley said.

Napoles is still recognized as champion by the World Boxing Association and other of the sport's governing bodies.

In Mexico City, a spokesman for Napoles said, "What do we care what the New York Commission says? Everybody knows that Napoles is the world champion—recognized by the (world) Boxing Council and the (World) Boxing Association, so the New York Commission and its chairman Edwin Dooley can do whatever they want. Nobody cares."

the slashing halfback said later, "It's been a tough week because of that record."

Cornell's victory —secured when John Killian kicked a 37-yard field goal with 5:01 remaining in the game —kept the Big Red in a tie for the Ivy League lead with Dartmouth, which edged Yale 17-15, and set up a possible battle of unbeaten two weeks hence.

Lions, Pack Play To 14-14 Standoff

MILWAUKEE — The Detroit Lions, playing their first game since the death of wide receiver Chuck Hughes, battled to a 14-14 tie with the Green Bay Packers Monday night in a game of missed scoring opportunities played in a driving rain.

The tie dropped the Lions into third place in the Central Division of the National Football Conference with a 4-2-1 record behind frontrunning Minnesota, 6-1 and Chicago, 5-2.

Wearing black arm bands of mourning, the Lions had one drive ended by a fumble and had a 32-yard field goal blocked as they tried to break through in a scoreless second half.

And so it had to be an extremely disappointing evening for the Lions, who had to battle back even to salvage a tie, scoring the tying touchdown with 17 seconds left to go in the first half on Greg Landry's 49-yard pass to Charlie Sanders.

The Lions' only other touchdown had come on the first series of plays in the game, when defensive tackle Bob Bell, making his first start, picked up a fumble by Green Bay quarterback Scott Hunter and raced 25 yards for a touchdown.

Two Detroit Coaches Fall To 'Boo-Birds'

DETROIT (AP) — The booing from the hometown fans cost Detroit pro sports two coaches over the weekend as Doug Barkley of the Red Wings and Bill van Breda Kolff of the Detroit Pistons handed in their surprise resignations.

Barkley, a 34-year-old veteran of the National Hockey League, resigned just before the Wings took the ice at Detroit Olympia Sunday night and handed Pittsburgh a 3-1 setback.

"I just could not live with the pressure of 15,000 fans booing and the pressure from press and television and radio," he said in explaining his decision.

Detroit pro fans were still recovering from the surprise of the Barkley decision when van Breda Kolff walked into the Pistons' office Monday morning and announced his resignation.

He had signed a two-year, $45,000 a year contract only two months ago and had won two games over the weekend in National Basketball Association play.

"The Detroit fans are supposed to be very good ones but I don't think they are insofar as loyalty is concerned," van Breda Kolff said.

"The fans really get to you, especially when you hear them say how dumb you are and things like that," he explained.

The 45-year-old NBA coach came to the Pistons two years ago after coaching the Los Angeles Lakers for two years. He led the Pistons to their best record in history last year—a 45-37 win-loss mark. They are 6-4 at the moment.

Pistons General Manager Edwin Collier said van Breda Kolff "approached me last Thursday night and said he was going to quit."

Collier said, "I tried to talk him out of it and after we won two games over the weekend, I figured everything would be okay but then he came into my office today and said the resignation stood."

Van Breda Kolff told newsmen at the Pistons' office following his resignation that he had no intention of coaching either pro or collegiate basketball again.

Collier said forward Terry Disinger would run the Pistons in practice for a while until the injured Dave Bing is pronounced recovered from his recent operation for a detached retina.

Collier was quick to point out that he did not want a permanent player-coach for the Pistons and he said the team's next coach would come from collegiate coaching ranks.

Collier said, "The statements that Bill and Doug Barkley made in their resignations were almost identical ... they sounded so much alike that they could have been drawn up together, although of course they were not."

The Wings, in discussing Barkley's surprise resignation Sunday night, said he would stay with the team in some capacity. He is on a $35,000 a year, one-year contract.

Barkley said of his resignation, "I just couldn't stand around and see this club go under. It was a tough thing to do because I'm young in my career and I still have it in mind that I would like to coach."

The Wings named Johnny Wilson as their fifth coach in a little over two years.

It's Never Too Late For Old-Man Blanda

OAKLAND (AP) — The loudspeaker at the Oakland Coliseum played George Blanda's recording of "It's Never Too Late" as the Oakland Raiders and Kansas City Chiefs warmed up on the field.

And before Sunday's game ended, Blanda was in there at quarterback proving he knows what he's singing about.

The 44-year-old phenomenon saved the Raiders from defeat a second straight week with a performance amazing enough to bring Sammy Baugh or even Frank Sinatra out of retirement. He also became pro football's all-time scoring leader with a field goal that gave Oakland a 20-20 tie in the closing minutes.

"What better place to get the point I needed than in a game where we came from 10 points behind the tie," Blanda said later.

Blanda replaced starting quarterback Daryle Lamonica in the fourth quarter with the Chiefs leading 20-10 and got the Raiders back in the game quickly by hitting Fred Biletnikoff with his 232nd career touchdown pass.

The late field goal was the 25th of his career and gave him 1,609 career points. Former Cleveland Browns' star Lou Groza, whom Blanda considers the best placekicker in National Football League history, scored 1,608 points.

Blanda, in his 22nd pro season, wasn't really appreciated until his 21st season. He rescued the Raiders in the final seconds throughout 1970, and his postseason honors included The Associated Press Athlete of the Year Award.

In between banquets and television appearances, Blanda was talked into the recording session for "It's Never Too Late."

"I enjoyed the off season and wouldn't have traded the experience with anybody," Blanda says. "But I found out one thing—I'm basically a football player, not an after-dinner speaker."

Blanda's return to 1970 form is good news for Raiders fans. But it's bad news for Ken Stabler, 25, who was considered the No. 2 quarterback until Coach John Madden called on Blanda a week ago Sunday against Cincinnati.

The oldtimer directed two touchdown drives in the last quarter and the Raiders won a see-saw game 31-27.

In the Raiders last two games, Blanda has completed five of eight passes for 107 yards and two touchdowns.

His streak of 201 consecutive extra points—second longest in NFL history—was broken by a blocked kick this season. But he's 9-for-12 on field goal attempts.

LAFAYETTE, IND.: Michigan State's fleet tailback Eric Allen scrambles for a few more yards after being tripped by Purdue's Gary Hrivnak in Saturday Big Ten game. Allen scored two first-half touchdowns.

Duffy Calls 'Flea' Greatest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan rolled up 458 yards rushing with Billy Taylor gaining 172 yards on only 11 rushes for a 15.6 average. Two of his bolts went for touchdowns of 43 and 66 yards.

Allen, nicknamed the Flea because of his 5-foot-9, 161-pound frame, did was set a single game NCAA rushing record of 350 yards and score four spectacular touchdowns in a 43-10 triumph over Purdue.

Allen, a black senior from Georgetown, S.C., also piled up such Michigan State records as 1,124 yards for one season and 2,204 career yards, eclipsing the 2,098 established by Lynn Chandois.

"Allen certainly is a great back," said Purdue Coach Bob DeMoss, "the best we've faced all season. He's a great one."

The victory lifted Michigan State into a third place tie with Purdue in the Big Ten but the race is all over for everyone except Michigan and Ohio State.

Michigan, ranked third nationally, clobbered Indiana 61-7 for its fifth Big Ten victory and eight overall and Ohio State kept pace in the conference race by escaping from Minnesota with a harrowing 14-12 decision.

Army-Navy Shapes Up As Standoff

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — The score was 3-0 at the half with Army's football team trailing and as soon as the Black Knights of the Hudson reached a squatting position in the dressing room Coach Tom Cahill said:

"What's the matter with you fellows? Why, Navy beat this team."

"This team" was Virginia, an Atlantic Coast Conference team that had scored only one touchdown in its first three games and showed only a 27-23 victory over inept Vanderbilt in its first six.

Most other coaches would not say, even at the end of a game, what had transpired in the dressing room at half-time. But Tom Cahill is not "just another coach."

He levels with his men, always has, and when you ask him:

"Are you thinking ahead four weeks to the (Nov. 27) Navy game?" he replied:

"You bet we are."

Navy beat Virginia this fall 10-6. Six weeks later Army beat the same Cavaliers 14-9.

"I think we'll be all right," said Cahill in the Army ice rink where he meets the press after games. "Navy this year has played the tough schedule, tougher than Army's. When you play teams like Michigan and Penn State it's the big leagues."

Navy lost to Michigan 46-0 and to Penn State by 56-3.

You can readily see that neither Navy nor Army are in the upper echelon of college football. However, their annual clash, in which Navy figures to be a slight favorite, ought to be another rouser such as last year's battle when Navy scored an 11-7 upset on the running of sophomore back Bob Elflein.

One of the reasons Cahill may go into the Navy game feeling a little better is the fact that he might have found in the Virginia game his answer to Army quarterback problems for the next two years.

Their new quarterback is Kingsley Fink, an 18-year-old sophomore from Eau Gallie, Fla. When this season began the 6-foot, 190-pound Fink was No. 2 signal caller behind southpaw Dick Atha who throws long but often over the heads of his receivers.

When Atha failed to make connections against Virginia, Fink came off the bench with 10:19 to play in the second quarter. All he did was lead a 55-yard touchdown march of 14 plays to put the Cadets in front 7-3 in the third quarter. In the last quarter Fink in 11 plays led Army to a 79-yard TD march for a 14-3 lead. For the day, Fink completed 12 of 17 passes for 116 yards. It was the best quarterbacking West Pointers had seen in more than two years.

Cahill's Army team this year has been beset with penalties. "Please," he said to one of the officials in a recent game, "when there's a holding penalty against us I'd like to know the player's number."

"OK," said the official, "I'll let you know."

"Wouldn't you know we get called for holding and the official said his view was blocked," recalled Cahill. "The linesman went over to ask one of the other officials for the number of our player who was holding."

"It was No. 68," said the linesman.

"Beautiful," Cahill replied. "We don't have a 68 on the squad."

was told Monday.

"Synthetic playing surfaces offer a myriad of advantages, ranging from more effective land usage to a dependably level field surface," said Dr. James G. Garrick, head of the Division of Sports Medicine at the University of Washington.

But, acceptance of higher injury rates would seem a high price to pay, regardless of how compelling other advantages appear, he said.

Garrett, along with other witnesses called for additional study on the relationship between artificial turf and football injuries.

"We have not concluded that artificial turf definitely leads to increased injuries," said Ed Garvey, executive director of the National Football League Players Association. "We are saying in light of Dr. Garrick's finding, the club owners should stop installing these surfaces until we know the answer."

Pete Rozelle, NFL commissioner, turned down an invitation to appear before the Subcommittee on Commerce and Finance.

"This office . . . has never been involved in either the purchase or promotion of artificial turf and is, therefore, not in a position to offer expert testimony," Rozelle wrote Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., subcommittee chairman.

Roy Jefferson and John Wilbur of the Washington Redskins and Gus Holloman, New York Jets defensive back, also testified.

"At first it made me feel that I was faster," Jefferson, a wide receiver, said of the synthetic surfaces. "But I have since found it tends to take a little more out of your legs. You get more shin injuries from running on the hard surfaces. It's like running on concrete."

Wilbur said he has a personal distaste for synthetic surfaces, because "it makes defensive linemen quicker and I'm an offensive lineman."

Garrick studied high school football players in the Seattle metropolitan area last fall.

"The injury rate on the synthetic surface was 50 per cent higher than that seen on the various grass fields," he testified.

Dry synthetic turfs accounted for the most injuries, Garrick said, and suggests that studies should be directed toward correlating "traction" and injuries.

A survey of injuries at the University of Washington during the last two years, he said, show injuries were more than three times as frequent on dry synthetic turf as on wet artificial surfaces.

Manufacturers of synthetic turf will testify at Tuesday's session.

To Hire Consultants For Utilities Study

Mayor Dan Lahey Monday night informed members of the city's Electric Committee of plans to hire a consultant firm to study the administration of the City Light Dept.

Lahey said the committee agreed with his decision to hire the firm of Pfeiffer and Schultz of Minneapolis, Minn., to evaluate the administration of the troubled light department and make suggestions for improvement.

Lahey said he would contact the consultants this morning in an effort to get someone in Jacksonville as soon as possible. Lahey indicated that the consultant's suggestions may be available before a new utilities superintendent is named.

Turnout within the financially ailing water, light and sewer departments boiled to the surface with the firing Saturday of Utilities Superintendent Robert Jameson.

The utilities operation is being directed by three employees reporting directly to Mayor Lahey.

In a related development, Ald. Vernon Fernandes reported the results of his talks with Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co. officials in Kansas City last week.

Panhandle Eastern said it was going to cancel its contract with the city for gas service to the city's power plant Nov. 30 because of the city's failure to pay its bills on time.

Fernandes said the officials told him "They would probably react favorably to a new contract if the city council would pass a resolution promising to:

—Pay the past due balance of approximately $8,000.

—Insure the payment by the 20th of each month of bills sent on the 10th.

—Establish an escrow account of $3,500 for an indeterminate period of time as a gesture of good faith. (The average monthly bill from Panhandle Eastern is about $3,800.)

If the contract is renewed, it would provide for a charge of 46 cents per 1,000 cubic feet of gas supplied with a one million cubic foot daily limit.

Fernandes said that a resolution would be brought before the council at next Monday's meeting for consideration.

Ogilvie, Dunne Talk Over Welfare Crisis

CHICAGO (AP) — A Circuit Court judge extended to Nov. 9 Monday his restraining order blocking a proposed 60 per cent reduction in welfare payments.

And Atty. Gen. William J. Scott's office said an appeal of the order will be filed Tuesday in the Illinois Supreme Court.

In Springfield, Cook County Board President George Dunne emerged from a meeting with Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie saying there had been a "meeting of the minds" over the general assistance battle. But Dunne said he had no plans to drop his suit which obtained the restraining order forcing the state to continue its payments.

And while Ogilvie told newsmen he too viewed the meeting as beneficial, he added he also has no plans to stop the battle between Cook County and his administration on its legal fronts.

Ogilvie said following the session he would continue to press legal action to lift the restraining order.

Ogilvie and Dunne said the meeting had forged a "mood of cooperation" and that they have agreed to move more recipients off general assistance into state categorical aid programs which qualify for federal matching funds.

Ogilvie said there will be an effort to review about 38,000 recipients of general assistance to determine eligibility for this shift to federally funded categories of aid.

The governor repeated his predictions that the state will face financial crisis unless the federal government comes to its aid with welfare assistance.

"If we (the state) are compelled by court order to continue to pay out the welfare, we will run out of funds by the end of December," Ogilvie said. "This would mean there would be a folding of the entire program in the state."

The governor said he would not "cooperate with an attempt to increase" the state income tax to cover welfare debts if the federal government does not come to the state's aid.

Judge Daniel A. Covelli issued an oral restraining order Saturday night barring Ogilvie from implementing his plan to cut 60 per cent from Cook County welfare recipients.

Ogilvie said Sunday the court had no authority to order the state to spend funds it did not have. He said the state would appeal.

Former Pike Teacher Dies In Arizona

PITTSFIELD — Gilbert Franklin, 69, a former school teacher of Pearl, died Monday in a nursing home in Phoenix, Arizona.

Mr. Franklin taught school in Pearl for a number of years and acted as superintendent of Barry High School. Upon retiring, he and his wife, the former Alice McLaughlin of Pittsfield, moved to Phoenix, Arizona where they have resided for approximately ten years.

His wife survives with a son and daughter.

Funeral services and burial will be held in Phoenix.

$5000 Proposed Top Exemption For Farmers

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — A downstate Democratic senate leader Monday proposed an amendment to his party's personal property tax program that would exempt up to $5,000 worth of farm property from the tax.

Sen. James H. Donnewald, D-Breese, assistant majority leader, said his amendment was designed to give relief to 70 per cent of the farmers without straining local government resources in replacing lost revenue.

"If the exemption is over the $5,000 amount, we would have the problem of finding relief for tax losses by using real estate or income tax," Donnewald said.

Republicans, in their personal property tax program announced last week, would exempt all farm property from the tax. Donnewald's amendment, if it is adopted, would be attached to a bill by Sen. Thomas G. Lyons, D-Chicago, which would exempt from the tax all property that does not produce income.

Sen. Everett E. Laughlin, R-Freepot, said the $5,000 exemption would mean about $100 a year in tax "up my way." He called it a sop to farmers and questioned its constitutionality.

Donnewald said the relief would amount to about $250 to the average Illinois farmer.

Lyons said the amendment would fit the Illinois Supreme Court opinion which threw out the 1970 constitutional amendment exempting individuals from the personal property tax. Lyons said the opinion required that no distinction be made on the basis of ownership of the property but encouraged distinction on the basis of use.

Lyons and Donnewald said the amendment is aimed at giving relief to the farmer who is at the same income level as the average wage earner, but the amendment would not help the millionaire farmer much.

DRIVER FINED IN TRAFFIC CASE

A Jacksonville young man was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $25 and $10 court costs by Judge Gordon Seator following a bench trial Monday afternoon.

Cedric J. Fisher, 20, of 1053 South Diamond entered his plea of innocent and asked for a trial without a jury.

State police as well as Fisher testified during the court case.

In other court action, Gregory Fries, 19, of 1919 Plum entered a plea of guilty to reckless driving. His case was continued to Nov. 8 for a pre-sentence investigation.

Jameson's Services Terminated By Lahey

Utilities Superintendent K. Robert Jameson has been fired from his position according to Mayor Dan F. Lahey who made the announcement Monday morning.

Lahey confirmed newsmen's questioning on the matter. He said the letter from him to Jameson was delivered Saturday morning by Jacksonville city police.

Lahey said in the letter, "I believe it is in the best interests of the city that your services be terminated as of Saturday, Oct. 30."

Lahey refused to comment concerning the reasons behind the termination and Jameson had no comments for the news media.

Lahey had four other top executives from the utility department in his office, presumably reviewing the operation of the department in Jameson's absence.

Jameson was removing his personal effects from the desk at city hall.

Mayor Lahey said he would attempt to call a utility meeting this evening to discuss what to do about the vacancy during the interim period.

Lahey said he wasn't sure that he would have a recommendation for a permanent appointment ready by Monday evening's city council meeting Nov. 8. He said he would "try" to come up with an appointment by that time, however.

Lahey said he would outline the reason for his action before the city council Nov. 8. All indications were that he would take the action earlier and report during the last council meeting Oct. 25 but he did not do so.

Meanwhile utilities personnel at city hall are "mum" but reported to be "busier than usual."

Open Chapin Bin Site For Corn Harvestors

Farmers, farmer groups and warehousemen needing grain storage facilities can apply at the county ASCS office for use of Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) bins says Gloyd Leavell, chairman of the Morgan County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

Eligible producers who participated in the set-aside program may obtain farm-stored price support loans for their corn and grain sorghums stored in rented CCC bins. Also, soybean producers are eligible for farm-stored price support loans stored in CCC bins.

Space to store about 127,000 bushels is available at the Chapin bin site in Morgan county.

The cost for bin rental is one cent a bushel per month, or fraction of a month based on the rated capacity of the bin. Most CCC bins have 3,250 bushel rated capacity.

Use of aeration equipment is recommended and is available for a slight additional charge, but no drying facilities are permitted on the bin site, Leavell said.

Grain stored in the rented bins is entirely the responsibility of the farmer, group of

Woman Injured In Car Wreck

A Jacksonville woman was injured about noon Monday when the car she was driving struck another auto at the intersection of West Morgan and Fayette streets.

Alice A. McGee, 19, of 410 N. Fayette St., was listed in "satisfactory" condition at Passavant hospital Monday night.

The McGee woman was injured when her northbound auto struck a car driven by Edward A. Smith, 44, of 823 N. Church St., which was eastbound on Morgan. Smith was ticketed for failure to yield the right of way at a yield sign.

In another accident Monday, a car driven by Norma J. Wainman, 29, of 350 W. Douglas Ave., hit a car parked in the 300 block of Douglas by David White of R.R. 2 Waverly.

The Wainman woman told officers she steered to the right as an oncoming car approached and hit the parked car.

At 7:29 p.m., city police investigated a collision on the south side of the square. A car driven by Dianne E. Moore, 20, of R.R. 1 Ashland, struck in the rear an auto operated by Mary L. Biggs, 42, of 841 S. East St.

GUNS STOLEN FROM TRUCK

A theft of four shotguns was reported about 9:30 p.m. Sunday by Jim Barnes of 1146 South East Street.

Barnes said the guns were taken from his unlocked carry-all truck, that was parked at his home. He also said the stolen guns include a 410 gauge and 20 gauge shotgun belonging to him and a pair of 12 gauge shotguns belonging to someone else.

Barnes was able to give police a partial description of two persons and a station wagon believed involved in the theft.

Lindberg, Choate Battle Over Bill

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Supporters of a code of conduct for public officials drafted by the Illinois House Ethics Commission failed Monday to strike from the measure a provision which they say is completely absurd and likely to kill the bill.

A final vote on the measure was put off another day while its backers tried to get it what the sponsor, Rep. George W. Lindberg, R-Crystal Lake, termed "halfway decent shape."

Lindberg, chairman of the ethics commission, lashed out at an ethics amendment adopted last week to bar public officials from holding stock in a number of businesses regulated by the state.

"The way it is now, a person serving his community on a library board, for example, could not invest in Commonwealth Edison," Lindberg said.

The House refused, 54-64, to accept Lindberg's substitute provision under which only shares in businesses regulated by the Illinois racing Board would be barred to legislators.

Sizzling exchanges between Lindberg and Democratic leader Clyde L. Choate of Anna, author of the present language on ownership of stock by officials, permeated the debate.

Choate owns sizeable shares in racing board regulated businesses.

So vehement did the two become that house speaker W. Robert Blair, R-Park Forest, noticing the doorkeeper standing between them interjected, "The doorkeeper will maintain his position right where he is."

Choate said that he would willingly dispense with features of his measure barring officials from owning stock in businesses regulated by the Commerce and Liquor Commission.

But those concerning the Departments of Financial Institutions and Insurance would have to stay, he added.

"It's not only the racing board that there have been reports about in connection with shenanigans, monkey business and wire pulling," Choate barked. "We've heard about the insurance industry."

Rep. Webber Borchers, R-Decatur, drew a warm round of applause when he interrupted the debate to say, "Frankly, I'm getting sick and tired of this whole damned business."

"With all these amendments you're cutting off the upper crust of this state in education and intelligence, foreclosing their right to make economic gains," Borchers added.
